Instructor Provided Feedback:

- App is working and search is functional at time of review.
  - Overall app structure is fine.
  - .env is committed to the repository
  - If the DB connection fails, the server still starts and silently fails on every request. A fast-fail on startup would be safer. Should no proceed if DB conn fails.

- Git branching should favor a consistent naming scheme, something like feature/ or fix/ and so on.
- Stale branches not deleted after merge. There are 25+ remote branches, many already merged into main. it is ok to remove no longer used branches.
- Commit messages could be better, there are some vague messages, duplicate messages.
- Commit counts looks ok for now, but they be can be improved as there will be more work to go around as we head to demo day.
